Learn How to Automatically Display Fresh Relevant Content and Improve Your Search Engine Rankings at the Same Time!

March 1, 2020

Dear Website Owner,

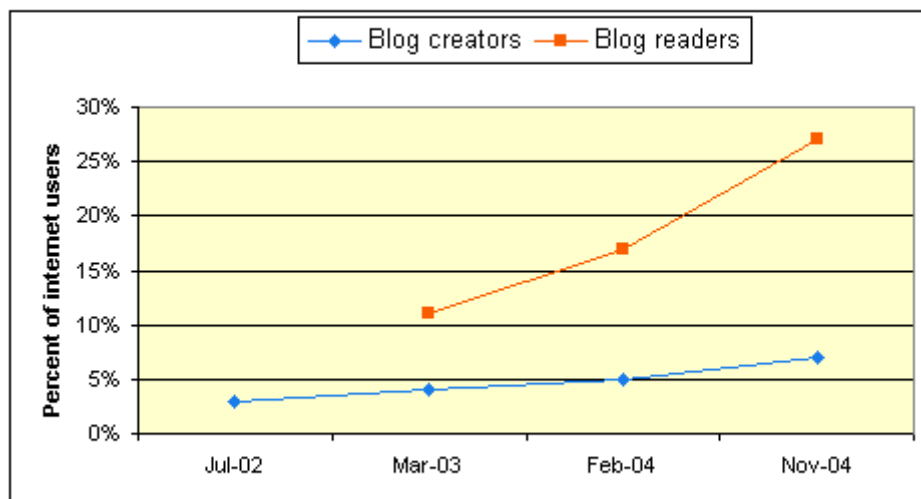

Introducing the Most Cost Effective Way to Attract Targeted Visitors to Your Website... With Zero Effort:

The blog phenomenon remains as one of the hottest technologies on the web right now. In fact, the Pew Internet & American Life Project estimates that the US blog population has grown to about 12 million American adults. That amounts to an incredible 57 million adults or 39% of the US online population.

If you understand how news syndication outlets such as the Associated Press and Reuters operate, then you already have a good grasp of how blogging technology works. You may have noticed your local newspaper reprinting articles from the Associated Press or UPI newswire from time to time -- Just imagine if your own website could operate just like your local newspaper by reusing news and relevant articles to boost readership.

Well, that's exactly what you can do with blogging technology!

The Growth of the Blogosphere

Literally Thousands of Websites Are Generating Valuable Target-Rich Content You Can Reuse On Your Own Website!

Just like your local newspaper, you can display this content on your website in order to generate loads of targeted traffic... Best of all, there are no syndication "fees" to reuse any of this content -- so you can display thousands upon thousands of fresh web articles, news and opinions on your website... All of which are yours, all FREE for the taking!

Website content syndication is accomplished using a dynamic technology called RSS (a.k.a. 'Really Simple Syndication') -- In the past few years year alone, savvy online users have been subscribing to RSS feeds in record numbers. These newsfeeds represent an easy way for internet users to receive important updates from their favorite online publishers. By subscribing to various RSS feeds, a sports fan can receive their favorite team's scores or latest updates, while a stock investor can remain connected with market changes throughout the day. An expecting mother can receive news and information relating to her pregnancy, while an avid movie buff can remain instantly connected to all the latest films and DVD releases.

Since RSS feeds are free, this emerging technology provides a great solution for the cost and time conscious internet marketer. Imagine loading your site with streams of relevant business and marketing articles all of which are targeted to your particular product or service offering!

What Does This All Really Mean To Internet Marketers and Webmasters?

It means that RSS has quickly risen as the newest marketing channel available for businesses to offer their products and services to specialized marketplaces -- As more and more people create, use, and contribute to blogs, the more RSS technology will continue to grow in popularity.

The Future Is Here ... RIGHT NOW!

And that means...

The marketing potential for using this technology and attracting targeted visitors is growing at a mind boggling rate!

Why? Because by displaying syndicated RSS news feeds, webmasters can attract search engines to their site in two important ways.

- 1. First, the more relevant content you post on your site, the more your search engine rankings will improve.*
- 2. Secondly, by adding fresh content, you dramatically improve the value of your incoming and outgoing links - a very important element in most search engines' page ranking algorithms.*

It's simple - if you aren't maximizing RSS feeds to your advantage you soon will be pushed aside by others who are! Online marketers have discovered that using blogs and RSS feeds is a surefire way to attract highly targeted traffic... with very minimal effort.

What Exactly is RSS ? XML RSS

RSS is just a simple method to allow information to be circulated or syndicated by other websites. RSS is a special web-based programming language just like html -- but RSS allows for the passing of data and information using a much 'leaner' programming language called XML. By tapping into this technology bloggers, online news organizations and anyone looking to send (or 'syndicate') content can easily stream updates through RSS feeds.

And best of all, ANYONE can create RSS feeds WITHOUT ANY programming knowledge whatsoever - so everyday large and small website owners are adding relevant news feed streams by the thousands!

You might have noticed small orange buttons on websites that indicate "XML" or "RSS." These are how webmasters share information and allow visitors to subscribe to their RSS feed. When webmasters allow others to syndicate their feeds, it basically means they are extending permission to distribute and circulate their RSS newsfeed freely.

Tapping into these RSS feeds allows you to 100% LEGALLY reuse this online content to your advantage!

The Secret To Why Search Engines Simply Love RSS Newsfeeds:

It's a known fact that the failure to regularly update content is the #1 reason why most search engine optimization campaigns fail. When Google visits your site over a period of time and notices your site's content has changed, it makes a note to visit your site more often -- this way it can re-index this new content and make it available in its Search Engine.

If you aren't adding relevant content, your optimization campaigns can only make a small dent in the search engines. But by causing Google to revisit your site more often, it will crawl deeper each time.

Before long, your entire site will be in the Search Engine Index -- In short, changing the content on your site regularly can go a long way to getting your site indexed quickly and thoroughly.

But Remember... ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING A High Page Rank Are Two VERY Different Things! Even if you've carefully constructed your web pages with the most perfect set of keywords and meta-tags, keeping a top page rank is a constant battle.

In the past, webmasters have invested thousands on special scripts which "fake" or trick the search engines with relevant content pages -- but now thanks to RSS you can establish and maintain top search engine rankings without ever lifting a finger or using any expensive tricks:

- Tap into an endless supply of fresh content- ready feeds are updated hourly!
- Avoid the same mistakes and stale SEO tactics everyone else is using
- Drive the search engine spiders CRAZY with fresh, relevant content
- Automatically update your site and achieve maximum search engine ranking... effortlessly
- Watch your traffic soar with interested prospects - literally overnight!

Introducing RSS Killer App - Harnessing the Power of RSS and XML Technology

If you're selling a product or service on the web, you need to attract a constant stream of hungry prospects. But, for most webmasters, the challenge of constantly updating websites with fresh content can become quite burdensome -- until now!

RSS Killer App SUPERCHARGES your website with relevant content... all automatically!

Finally, you can offer your visitors updated content that's highly relevant to the service or product you're currently promoting on your website.

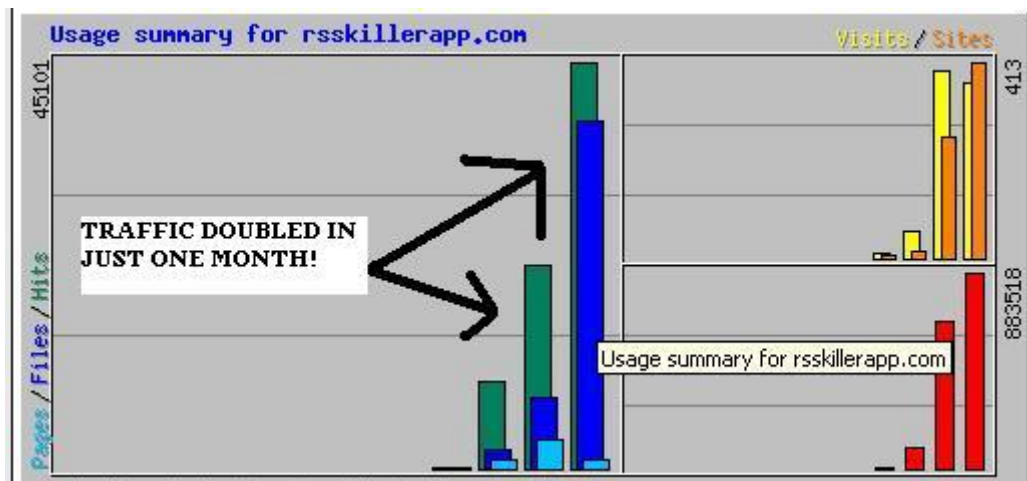

So what exactly is RSS Killer App?

By placing a small snippet of code on your website RSS Killer App downloads and displays RSS news feeds in a re sizable scrolling window -- which can be placed anywhere on your existing website.

You simply choose the RSS feeds you want to feature on your website and RSS Killer App will display the most recent updates to these newsfeeds automatically.

Whenever any news feeds are updated, your scrolling window will instantly recognize and display these changes to your visitors. RSS Killer App provides total control over the design of your news feed display, allowing you to match the overall look and feel of your own site easily.

After running RSS Killer App for a few hours, you can sit back and watch your traffic and rankings increase!

I'll even provide you with a complete listing of RSS resources and directories - this way you can check and gather the latest and best news feeds to display on your website. This will make absolutely certain you are sharing the best RSS feeds relating to your existing website content and maximizing your traffic potential.

This website currently displays over 6 different RSS feeds (see below). However, there's nothing preventing you from displaying hundreds or even thousands of feeds on your website -- simply cut and paste a snippet of simple code into your web page, and you can display relevant content immediately!

HERE'S THE PART THAT SHOULD GET YOU REALLY EXCITED!

No Special Programming Skills are Needed to Use RSS Killer App.

Anyone can easily use RSS Killer App and place this solution on their website in minutes!

RSS Killer App allows you to add instantly relevant content to your website in seconds - Search engines like Google, Yahoo, MSN and AOL absolutely love fresh, targeted content!

It's a fact: displaying fresh content achieves faster indexing and higher page rank... Many users report an increase of steady traffic often within hours of adding RSS Killer App to their website!

Deliver an endless stream of highly targeted content 24 hours a day, 7 days a week... Tap into the Full Power of RSS!

Turbocharge Your Website Content and Dominate The Search Engine Rankings!

RSS Killer App has been carefully designed to render RSS news feeds in a separate HTML page. This allows the news feeds you display to be fully indexed by search engine spiders -- This new technology even allows you to add meta-tags in the resulting feed pages giving you the absolute best page rankings possible.

There's absolutely NO java script or special code involved!

You'll be able to automatically serve fresh new content to your visitors - 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year without any special programming knowledge.

Experience the benefits of displaying hundreds or even thousands of RSS news feeds on your own website and leave your competition in the dust!

Here is what the Pew Study outlined as the "typical" blog reader:

- Gender: 57 percent are male.
- Age: 48 percent are under 30.
- Connection Speed: 70 percent have broadband at home.
- Internet Veterans: 82 percent have been online six years or more.

- Income: 42 percent live in households earning over $50,000 annually.
- Education: 39 percent have college or graduate degrees.

Ask yourself... are your current marketing efforts are targeting these buyers as well as they should ?

If not, put RSS Killer App to the test now!
