

Albert Mensah, One of the World's Leading Motivational Speakers and "The Prince of Possibilities" Reveals...

About Albert Mensah

Albert grew up in Ghana, Africa, one of the most impoverished nations in the world. He walked four miles, barefoot, twice a day to carry firewood and water to his home - one without electricity or plumbing. Seeing his first American movie at age eight. Albert witnessed the unparalleled opportunities in America. Attending a US college became his dream, and after "practically living in the library," Albert received a four-year scholarship to Western Maryland College, where he was also an All-American soccer player.

Since then, he has become an internationally known speaker. In 1999, he

Dear Friend:

Have you ever experienced any of these symptoms?

- Intense anxiety before, or simply at the thought of having to verbally communicate with any group,
- Avoidance of events which focus the group's attention on individuals in attendance,
- Physical distress, nausea, or feelings of panic in such circumstances.

If so, you may be one of the many thousands of people who suffer from the painful effects of Glossophobia.

Now don't worry, there's no need to rush and make an appointment with your doctor.

Glossophobia is merely the technical term used to describe common stage fright.

Unfortunately, many people do not consider the stage fright associated with delivering a public speech "common".

The comedian Jerry Seinfeld once said; "According to most studies, people's number one fear is public speaking. Number two is death. Death is number two. Does that sound right? This means to the average person, if you go to a funeral, you're better off in the casket than doing the eulogy."

Stage fright is just one of the many fears people encounter when preparing for or delivering a public speech.

The truth is the anxiety associated with standing in front of a packed house is often enough to un-nerve even the most seasoned professional. But that's only one of many hurdles a speaker encounters when presenting a speech.

was first runner-up at the prestigious Toastmasters International World Championship of Public Speaking, Albert has presented for the National Speakers Association's Youth Conference, National Asian, Youth Conference, local FBLA, RYLA, DECA and numerous programs for teachers, parents, administrators and the community.

What people are saying about Albert Mensah:

"...Gosh man, YOU ARE AWESOME! Thank you for all of your efforts in delighting our organization with such a moving and memorable presentation at our 2002 Quality Forum."

- Pearl Gibson, Manager, City of Memphis

"Thanks so much for your wonderfully dynamic presentation

For over 11 years, I've earned my living as a professional speaker. I've had the pleasure of speaking to some of the largest and most prestigious organizations located within the United States and around the world.

My clients include businesses such as; Starbucks, Boeing, Nordstrom, State Farm Insurance, Washington Mutual, Merrill Lynch and Allstate (just to name a few).

In my journey as a Professional Speaker I've experienced the highs and lows associated with making thousands of public speeches. These include stage fright, disinterested and hostile audiences, and even hit-or-miss material that doesn't always connect.

I like to think I've seen it all... but, of course, I know better!

During my many years as a professional speaker, I've learned one simple, unavoidable fact: Expect the unexpected! The truth is there are no secret formulas for delivering a memorable speech.

However, there are some very powerful speech preparation techniques that can make all the difference in the world when it comes to making a masterful speech or presentation.

Discover What it Takes to Deliver a Memorable Speech...

Early in my career, I discovered how to deliver life-changing messages that keep my audience engaged and inspired long after I've made my presentation. Using a series of time-tested and proven speech preparation techniques, I was able to overcome stage fright and the obstacles to presenting an electrifying speech.

Best of all, I learned how, by using effective speech preparation, I could literally transform my audience's lives.

Through the years, I've been able to perfect an approach to delivering truly unforgettable speeches. The types of speeches that keep my audiences and clients thoroughly engaged and excited are a part of my presentation.

I've learned what to say and how to say it in time. But most importantly, I've discovered the invaluable techniques necessary for
